

JUST LIKE YOU™

1 in 2 kids living with a disability are bullied at school and are more likely to be excluded by other kids because of their disability.

Just Like You aims to solve these problems early on by educating primary school kids on acceptance and inclusion and helps change the way they think about and act towards people with a disability.

The school workshops celebrate what makes a person different through interactive activities whereby students learn that people with a disability are the same as everyone else - that they are Just Like you!

By showing kids that people with a disability are just like them, we can help create a generation of Aussies that help give everyone, no matter their ability, a fair go in life.
