Dear Friend of Variety

RE: BRYDENS LAWYERS

It is my absolute honour and privilege to be able to introduce to you my firm, Brydens Lawyers as a member of the Variety family.

In my role as a corporate partner of Variety I have been able to observe first hand the incredible work undertaken by Variety to help disadvantaged children. As a parent I can only marvel at the difference that Variety has made to countless lives with the provision of services, aids and equipment.

Variety is an organisation of unparalleled integrity, commitment and passion. Given that Variety focuses its efforts entirely on the needs of disadvantaged and disabled children is in itself recognition and commendation of the invaluable service that this charity provides.

The fact that Variety has chosen to partner with my firm, Brydens Lawyers is similarly an acknowledgment by Variety as to my firm's ability to provide assistance to those in need. I am truly grateful and humbled by such an endorsement.

Brydens Lawyers has partnered with Variety for a number of years now as a corporate sponsor. In that role Brydens Lawyers has been able to assist friends of Variety with the provision of expert legal advice and representation across all areas of law.

Whether it be the making of a claim for compensation for an injury suffered, a commercial transaction, a family law or Wills and Estates dispute or even if just the buying or selling of the family home, Brydens Lawyers can assist.

Should Brydens Lawyers be able to provide any assistance in any meaningful way to any friend of Variety then you have my personal commitment and undertaking that we are here to do so.
